

Payroll Giving was first introduced at Think Money in January 2006. A successful re-launch in 2008 helped us achieve 82% participation, 556 employees, and with the business growing in the past 12 months by an average of 18 employees per month, our initial target was to maintain a high percentage of our employees contributing to the scheme. This month we have achieved 719 of our 866 employees signed up to Payroll Giving, which is now 83% of our workforce. Our monthly contribution has now reached £4,971.83, an average of £6.91 per employee signed up to the scheme.

Phil Robertson, Head of Staff Welfare and Development said:

"We are extremely proud of all our Think Money employees that have supported our charity work this year through Payroll Giving. Having 83% of our employees contributing via the scheme demonstrates their own strong personal values and a true passion to make a difference in the lives of so many."
